

Cororna rapid test

Our COVID19 antigen rapid test is the Roche / SD biosensor, which is one of the seven leading tests on the market with a 98.53% certainty.

A sample is taken from the nose with the help of a cotton swab. The procedure may make some patients feel unfamiliar for a short time, but is painless.

The test procedure is completely contactless with us. The medical staff takes the sample only with protective clothing in compliance with the legal hygiene standards.

The sample is then placed directly in the test device and checked for virus-specific fragments on site.

The test kits we use enable a test result to be obtained after approx. 30 minutes. As soon as this is available, we will send you an encrypted file by email or, if you wish, via post. We can also give you a call. You can open the file with a number pin that you receive in advance when you register. You can present the official test result as a written document to your employer, authorities, etc. if required.

If your test is positive, we will also contact you immediately by phone and provide medical advice if necessary.
